

CHEM523 Fall 2021 Reading Quiz 6

Answer the following questions on your Rocketbook pages and send me your answers by the start of class on Thursday, October 14. Late submissions will not be accepted. Be certain to include your name on every page in the top right hand corner.

- 1) The smallest monosaccharides are composed of how many carbons?
- 2) What is meant by the term “anomer” when referring to monosaccharides?
- 3) What is the primary difference between cellulose and glycogen?
- 4) What key feature do all glycosaminoglycans share?
- 5) What is a lectin?